Border War Talks Open

Cease-Fire Rated Initial Objective

BAMAKO, Mali (AP)—President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria and King Hassan II of Morocco arrived in Bamako today to bring their border war to the conference table.

Hassan, first to arrive, was smiling. Ben Bella arrived about a half hour later.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, a prime mover in mediation efforts, was the last to arrive.

President Modibo Keita of Mali immediately invited the three leaders to lunch at his palace before the first session of the conference.

Western diplomats hoped the meeting would produce a cease-fire in the disputed border area between Morocco and Algeria. But they doubted any of the fundamental issues dividing the two North African neighbors would be resolved.

Ben Bella told his people by radio that he was optimistic for peace.

To strengthen the Moroccan position at the talks, Hassan's government announced its troops were eight miles from Tindouf, well in the territory claimed by Algeria.

The Moroccan King told his nation by radio Monday night he would press for adjustment of the frontier, most of which has never been formally marked out. It was doubtful Ben Bella would concede much, if anything, and he was certain to reject Morocco's claim to the ore-rich Tindouf area.

New System Watches over Bed Patients

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Electronic equipment developed through space age research has been installed to provide a continuous guard over the condition of patients at the Miami Heart Institute.

The institute also announced today the development of a warning system, which it called the first in the nation, which would summon doctors and nurses to a patient's bedside within 15 seconds of a change in his heart's action.

Institute officials said the new system, called Cardiac Intensive Care Unit, would be dedicated Sunday.

Each patient deemed in need of the intensive care has four electrodes taped to his body. An electronic "picture" of his electrocardiogram and heart rate is reproduced constantly on a screen like a television set at a central station where a nurse is on duty at all times.

If rapid fluttering or a slowed beat of the heart takes place beyond levels established for each patient by his doctor, the unit automatically sounds an alarm.

A light flashes outside the patient's room, another light flashes at the nursing station and a buzzing alarm sounds — fast or slow according to the heart change — at key points around the hospital where doctors would be on duty.

Dr. E. Sterling Nichol, chairman of the institute's development fund, said that from 30 to 50 per cent of the lives of critical cardiac patients can be salvaged through the use of such intensive care.

3000 Workers Idled

CINCINNATI (AP) — More than 3,000 workers at two General Motors plants in suburban Norwood have been idled because of a strike at the Chevrolet plant.

About 1,340 United Auto Workers Union members left their jobs Monday to protest an alleged speed-up. The company said the dispute was about work standards. After the Chevrolet strike, work stopped at the neighboring Fisher Body plant.

Ginny Not All Bad

Eastern States Get Rain

BOSTON (AP) — Hurricane Ginny brought relief from a prolonged drought in eastern New England today and flurried with the coast as it headed in a northeasterly direction.

There was a possibility sections of eastern Maine might feel a strong punch from the meandering storm.

The erratic hurricane was expected to pass along the coast of Nova Scotia, its main threat to New England reduced to gale winds.

At Nantucket, the winds were from the north-northwest 40 miles an hour with gusts up to 5.

Tides generally were a couple of feet above normal on Cape Cod.

As she moved up the Atlantic

Coast, Ginny brushed past eastern Long Island in New York and then turned seaward.

Nantucket got the heaviest rainfall with 2.58 inches in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. The storm dumped 1.86 inches of rain during a six-hour period Monday.

A 90-foot dragger, the Casco Bay, with five aboard, was reported in sinking condition off Portland, Maine. The Coast Guard sent aid.

The Weather Bureau canceled a hurricane watch on the New England coast and a flood warning for Long Island.

This morning radar found the center of the storm about 180 miles east of Nantucket. Ginny was moving northeastward at about 35 miles an hour, packing an estimated 95-m.p.h. punch at the center and flinging gale-force winds for 225 miles.

"The hurricane watch on the New England coast and eastern Long Island has been discontinued," the Weather Bureau said. "However, whole gale warnings are displayed elsewhere from eastern Long Island to Eastport, Maine."

No General Break Seen In Drought

CHICAGO (AP)—No general break in autumn's severe and costly drought appeared in prospect today but possible rains from hurricane Ginny brought some relief in Eastern parts of the nation.

Rain, showers or snow were forecast for broad areas of the East and South. The rains, if heavy and widespread, could be of benefit in alleviating drought conditions, curtailing the rash of fires in forestlands and replenishing dwindling water supplies.

Forecasters said Ginny was centered about 250 miles south of Cape Cod and moving northward, aiming at southeastern New England and threatening strong winds and rain for New York City and Long Island.

Heavy rains were indicated in eastern Long Island and eastern Connecticut, with tides running up to six feet above normal.

Gale warnings were displayed from Eastport, Maine, to the Virginia Capes.

If Ginny continues on her present course, most of the rain would hit only coastal areas rather than the tinder-dry inland sections. Weather officials said New York City's six up-state reservoirs, based on Ginny's present movement, would not get much benefit because of the inland locations. Residents in the nation's largest city have been asked to conserve water.

Meanwhile, the drought continued to cut deeper into many segments of the nation's economy. Property and crop losses have been estimated in the millions of dollars.

Showers the past few days in scattered areas of the vast drought belt, which extends from the Southern Plains into New England, brought only temporary relief from the prolonged dry spell.

Nearly a half inch of rain fell Monday in many areas in New England, which has been hard hit by drought and scores of forest fires. Earlier, fairly heavy rain hit parched areas in Upper Michigan, northern Missouri, Southern Illinois and central Kansas.

Police Charge Mother COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The death of a 16-month-old girl has resulted in police charging the mother, Mrs. Rosetta L. Shepherd, 18, with second-degree murder.

The baby died Sunday in children's hospital. When she was admitted Friday, the hospital said, the infant was suffering from a broken arm and other body fractures in various stages of healing, and was critically ill.

Compromise Rights Bill Gains Approval

Senate Opens Its Probe of Party Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators open their investigation today of Robert G. Baker, the page boy they called "Bobby" who quickly grew up to wealth and power as secretary of the Senate's Democratic majority.

The first witnesses in the Rules Committee's closed hearing was to be Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who has conducted a one-man probe of the affairs of Baker, 35, who resigned his Senate job under fire Oct. 7.

A specific point under the committee's scrutiny is an allegation that Baker used pressure tactics to induce big defense contractors to install at their plants vending machines of various kinds leased from a firm in which he had a financial stake. Baker has denied any pressure tactics.

The case has been followed by disclosure that Baker was a moving spirit in the organization of an exclusive Capitol Hill group known as the Quorum Club, Inc., at a hotel across the street from the Senate Office Building. Its membership included Congress members and lobbyists.

He also has been named as the unsalaried secretary of a travel agency which numbered Congress members and lobbyists among its clients.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, asked Monday that the investigation also look into the affairs of Mrs. Elly Rometsch, attractive German brunette who was shipped home after allegedly bragging of amorous adventures with Washington figures. One of the unconfirmed rumors was some members of Baker's circle were on good terms with Mrs. Rometsch, 27, and that she was often seen at the Quorum Club.

Once Around Roundtown

HALLOWEEN pranks resulting in property damage have been at a minimum in both the city and the county according to officials of the Circleville Police Department and the Pickaway County Sheriff's office.

And spokesmen from both departments reported that every effort will be made to insure property owners that Halloween pranks will continue to have just "good clean fun."

URBANA Ohio (AP) — The driving license of an Urbana man was revoked for life today after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The stern sentence for Homer Burton, 45, was handed down by Municipal Court Judge Karl E. Paulig. Burton also was fined $200 in costs and sentenced to a 90-day jail term.

Court officials said he had been convicted on four previous occasions for driving while intoxicated.

Halloween Parade Slated Thursday

The annual Halloween parade sponsored by the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce has been scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Beggar's Night will also be observed Thursday by order of Police Chief Robert Temple in conjunction with a proclamation by Mayor Richard W. Penn.

Chief Temple said today that at least one adult should accompany "groups of youngsters as they go from door-to-door." He said an extra cruiser would be working throughout the evening in the city area and will "be on the lookout for vandals."

HAROLD Nagel and Dick Fullen are co-chairman of the Jaycees-sponsored parade which will be climaxed at the armory with refreshments to all participants, compliments of Lindsey's Bakery and Blue Ribbon Dairy.

Nagel announced today that cash prizes would be given for winners in all classes including the prettiest, ugliest and most original.

The Circleville High School Band will lead the parade that will form on W. Franklin St. near the police station. The parade route will be as follows: west on Franklin, north on Scioto, east on Main, south on Court and east on Franklin to the armory.

Judging of all contestants will be held at the armory by Jaycee officers.

Food Poison Scare Brings Layoff in Fishing Industry

DETROIT (AP)—The three-week-old botulism food poisoning scare is causing a reported 20,000 layoffs in the Great Lakes commercial fishing industry. Meantime, the nation's fishing industry is fighting to restore public confidence in its smoked fish product.

Great Lakes area layoff reports came from commercial fishing sources Monday as representatives of the industry began meetings with government officials at Washington in an effort to regain the housewife's favor.

Sales of smoked fish plummeted after seven deaths from botulism and a government warning of the public not to eat smoked fish from the Great Lakes area unless it is known to have been properly processed.

The seven deaths, blamed on botulism in smoked fish, were in Michigan, Tennessee and Alabama.

The federal Food and Drug Administration agreed after the meetings with industry men to issue a statement re-emphasizing

Two Escapees Are Caught

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Five men broke out of the Marion County Jail early today but authorities said two were captured quickly in Delaware, 25 miles south of here.

Marion County sheriff's deputies said the five escaped by dislodging a 24 x 37 inch stone in the back wall of the building and then battering a hole through the brick exterior.

Captured in Delaware after they wrecked a stolen car were Carl R. Miller, 24, of Marion and Floyd V. Crawford, 18, of Delaware. Miller was awaiting grand jury action on a breaking and entering charge and Crawford was serving out a $209 fine plus five days for operating a vehicle with a suspended driver's license.

The other escapees, still loose, are Warren E. Simones, 38, Henry William Burch, 24, and Howard R. Van Wey, 18, all of Marion. Simones was awaiting grand jury action on a fraud charge. Burch was serving a three-month sentence on a petty larceny conviction and Van Wey was awaiting grand jury action on a breaking and entering charge.

Authorities said there were 35 inmates in the jail at the time of the break.

She was killed. The little boy was unhurt.

Milder Draft Is on Way to House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee approved today an administration-backed compromise civil rights bill. The vote was 20-14.

The final vote which sends the bill on its way to the House floor came after an earlier defeat of a tougher bill backed by some liberals on the committee.

Administration leaders had feared this strong bill could not pass in the House and they therefore advocated the substitute instead. The vote to turn down the tough civil rights bill was 19-15.

The committee actions came shortly after President Kennedy had met with House leaders of both parties.

Although some supporters of the defeated bill, which was drafted by a judiciary subcommittee claimed it could have been passed, others conceded the new proposals will have a better chance of passage.

At the White House meeting, Kennedy was reported to have told Democratic and Republican House leaders he expected them to work together to move the compromise bill smoothly through the House.

It was not immediately clear whether the committee would reach a vote today on the new package. When the meeting began many members had not even seen it.

It was finally put together late Monday night and printed copies were distributed to some members this morning.

It is a 56-page bill that contains all of the original seven administration proposals, covering voting rights, school desegregation and extension of the Civil Rights Commission, establishment of a community relations service, and a tough new provision that would authorize the administration to withhold federal funds for federally aided programs in which discrimination is practiced.

Success for the administration drive to reach a compromise had been signalled by House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., who reported the White House meeting this morning ended on "a very happy note."

The gathering was held less than an hour before the committee session.

It followed the weekly break-

Labor Is Set To Campaign Anew for Short Work Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor leaders campaigning to cut the 40-hour work week estimate that more than 5.5 million Americans already have contracts calling for shorter hours.

And the AFL-CIO, at its convention in New York next month, is almost certain to ask Congress to cut the work week of another 20 million Americans by reducing the present 40-hour minimum.

George Meany, president of the big labor organization, says it is the only answer to full employment.

But labor's argument that it would not lead to inflationary price rises is apparently finding few receptive ears in Congress, the Labor Department or the White House.

The administration fears it would lead to rising prices and inflation.

The prime motivation now and in the past for shorter work contracts, an AFL-CIO spokesman says frankly, is the fear of unemployment.

Some labor spokesmen believe cutting the 40-hour week would come close to halving the current unemployment figure of 3.5 million.

The cause of labor's growing concern is the steady loss of jobs to automation while the nation's labor force climbs inexorably higher.

Although the Labor Department does not keep figures on the number of workers with less than 40-hour contract weeks, the AFL-CIO's research department places the figure at 10 to 15 per cent of the nation's non-farm wage and salary workers — between 5.5 million and 8 million persons.

Does the shorter work week help spread employment? "Not as much as we had hoped," an AFL-CIO spokesman said, adding that automation has been taking up the slack faster than anticipated.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Warren Councilman Raymond Little is to be released from Marion Correctional Institution next month after serving two years of a 1-to-10 year sentence on five counts of bribery and one count of influencing a witness.

Little was indicted—along with Councilmen Jack Flask and John Janosik, former Trumbull County Democratic Chairman Frank Cicelli and truck driver Al Lamonge—on several counts of soliciting bribes from local contractors in a $4.4 million dollar sanitary sewer project in Warren.

His parole will be effective on or after Nov. 29. Flask and Janosik, who were admitted to prison in December 1961, a month after Little, will receive parole hearings at the Marion institution next month.

Cicelli and Lamonge, who was described as a "strong-arm man," have appeals pending on the charges.

Little, 51, as granted a parole by the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission in his second hearing. At the first hearing last October, his case was continued for a year. Although the vote was not disclosed, commission employees said they believed the commission action was unanimous.

One count of Little's indictment charged him with extorting $56,000 from a contractor; another with receiving five per cent of the total contract price from the company for "campaign funds." He also was accused of warning one of the contractors about his testimony to a grand jury investigating the bribe attempts.

Prior to his conviction, Little's home was bombed, an event which reportedly caused Little, Flask and Janosik to drop out of the extortion ring, commission records show.

Little, who was elected to five two-year terms on the Warren council, must serve a minimum of one year on parole.

The Pardon and Parole Commission also approved a parole for Albertine Parker of Mansfield, who served 10 years in the Ohio Reformatory for Women for second-degree murder in the death of her husband's girl friend Mrs. Parker, 35, turned herself in after forcing Emma Lee Campbell, then 33, off a bus at gunpoint, then shooting her on a Mansfield street corner.

fast session of congressional Democratic leaders with Kennedy.

For the past week, Kennedy and his aides have been working with House leaders and Judiciary Committee members in an effort to develop a compromise bill acceptable to both parties. The administration has feared that the bill approved by the subcommittee could not win passage.

The President presented the new proposals, worked out with key House Republicans, to committee Democrats at the White House Monday.

He urged they be accepted in place of the more drastic measure put together in a judiciary subcommittee by a Northern liberal group of both parties.

The compromise is said to include provision for creation of a fair employment practices commission but without the enforcement powers contained in the subcommittee bill.

And it is reported to exempt retail stores from provisions to ban racial discrimination in public facilities related to interstate commerce.

Kennedy's original civil rights package did not include a fair employment commission but Negro civil rights leaders have urged Congress to adopt one.

The new proposals are based on intense negotiations between the administration and key House Republicans, and are designed to win broad bipartisan support. The administration fears the subcommittee bill could not command such support and would be doomed without it.

The committee meets today. It is due to vote on a motion to approve the subcommittee bill and defeat of the motion is essential to the administration plans.

Members who attended the White House meeting said the proposals embody all seven of the original administration provisions, but with at least two key sections weakened. They also include two controversial provisions from the subcommittee bill, but in diluted form.

They said the weakened administration proposals are those dealing with voting rights and racial discrimination in places of public accommodation. A provision for the appointment of temporary referees to register Negro voters was scrapped, and retail stores were exempted from the provision to bar racial discrimination in all public facilities related to interstate commerce.

The two sections added include the fair employment practices commission provision and another that would authorize intervention by the attorney general in civil rights suits brought by individuals.

The latter provision is intended as a substitute for one in the subcommittee bill empowering the attorney general to initiate court action in all cases of deprivation of rights. The substitute would permit him to join in civil rights suits after they have been filed.

Courthouse Front To Get New Lights

Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday negotiated with a local electrical contractor for the installation of new lights at the base of the steps in front of the courthouse.

Mrs. Geneva Brink, board clerk, pointed out that one of the lamps had been broken during Pumpkin Show and an investigation disclosed that the material supporting the lamps had corroded and needed replacing.

Commissioners employed Dan Grant, of Flash Electric Co., to install a mercury vapor - type lamp on both sides of the front steps. The new lamps will be turned on and off automatically every evening and morning.

The commission also signed contracts yesterday designating public depositories. They were listed as the First National, Second National, Third National and The Savings Bank, all of Circleville; the First National Bank of New Holland, The Scioto Bank, Commercial Point; The Ashville Bank and The Citizens Bank, both of Ashville.

County Treasurer Robert Wood was granted the commission's approval for attending the annual convention of county treasurers at Akron on Nov. 12-15. Wood estimated that expenses would be around $90 for the four-day meeting.

eastern New England brought a measure of relief to an area plagued by drought and forest fires. Bans on burning were eased.

The morning advisory indicated the Weather Bureau regarded Ginny as a diminishing threat.

The bureau said the present course indicated Ginny would continue moving rapidly toward the northeast, passing along the coast of Nova Scotia.

Heavy rain fell on eastern Long Island and the New England coast and breakers pounded the Long Island north shore.

Based on Ginny's present movement, New York City's six upstate reservoirs will not receive much benefit because of their inland locations, the weather man said. The reservoirs are down to about 30 per cent of their 476.5-billion-gallon capacity. The city has asked its residents to conserve water.

It was raining hard early today in southeastern New England. But since the ground was dry when the rain began, it was not expected to cause a serious flooding problem. Nevertheless, the Weather Bureau warned residents of river valleys and lowlands to stay on the alert.

He apprehended Blankenship near the Scippo Creek bridge.

Project Gemini Is Moving Ahead

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A 90-foot-tall Titan 2 rocket, split into two stages, wheeled carriers. Workmen gingerly started to unload the valuable cargo.

Thus, an Air Force-contractor team began Monday the complex task of preparing the rocket for the first launching in the United States' next man-in-space effort, Project Gemini.

The initial flight will attempt to hoist a mockup model of the two-man Gemini spacecraft into orbit. It will tell engineers many things: the structural compatibility of the spacecraft and booster; temperatures and pressures which will affect the combination; performance of the guidance system, and Titan 2's ability to place a payload into a precise orbit.

The flight will be one of two, perhaps three, unmanned launchings designed to "man-rate" the Titan 2 for astronaut orbital and space rendezvous missions. The first astronaut flight is scheduled late next year.

The intercontinental-range Titan 2 has performed well in military weapon tests—but it is far from ready for manned flight. The major problem is a vibration which could blur the astronauts' instrument panel during the critical launching phase.

The vibration trouble is one reason the Gemini program is a year behind schedule. It has been called the "pogo effect" because it vibrates the length of the missile like a boy hopping up and down on a pogo stick.

The chief of the Air Force Gemini launch division, Lt. Col. John G. Albert, told newsmen about the difficulty.

The commission also signed contracts yesterday designating public depositories. They were listed as the First National, Second National, Third National and The Savings Bank all of Circleville; the First National Bank of New Holland, The Scioto Bank, Commercial Point; The Ashville Bank and The Citizens Bank, both of Ashville.

County Treasurer Robert Wood was granted the commission's approval for attending the annual convention of county treasurers at Akron on Nov. 12-15. Wood estimated that expenses would be around $90 for the four-day meeting.

Bus Driver Ends 34-Year Career

Harry Walker, 349 Watt St., recently retired from the Chillicothe District of the Lake Shore System bus lines after completing nearly 34 years of service.

Walker was first employed in the field of transportation by the Scioto Valley Traction Lines in 1921. In 1930 he began driving for the Valley Public Service, known later as Valley Greyhound Lines and presently known as the Lake Shore System.

During Walker's career he received several safe driving awards.

A long time resident of Circleville, he and his wife, Audalene, have three sons and two grandchildren.

Local Resident Bound to Jury

Elwood Lewis, 225 E. Watt St., was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury yesterday under $1,000 bond by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb.

He entered a plea of not guilty to charges filed by Patrolman Richard E. Anderson who cited him with the alleged theft of a billfold containing $84. The billfold and money were taken from William Camp, 569 E. Main St., who was reportedly asleep in his car at the time of the theft.

Assisting Anderson in the investigation were Sgt. Leroy Hawks Jr. and Patrolman Richard Blaney.

Jacobs To Speak At Rotary Meet

Fritz Jacobs, city superintendent of schools, will be the guest speaker at Thursday's noon luncheon meeting of Circleville Rotary Club.

Jacobs will speak on "The Better School Program that the Circleville School Bond Issue Can Make Possible."

Jacobs' talk will be presented immediately following the noon meal.

Eastern . . .

eastern New England brought a measure of relief to an area plagued by drought and forest fires. Bans on burning were eased.

The morning advisory indicated the Weather Bureau regarded Ginny as a diminishing threat.

The bureau said the present course indicated Ginny would continue moving rapidly toward the northeast, passing along the coast of Nova Scotia.

Heavy rain fell on eastern Long Island and the New England coast and breakers pounded the Long Island north shore.

Based on Ginny's present movement, New York City's six upstate reservoirs will not receive much benefit because of their inland locations, the weather man said. The reservoirs are down to about 30 per cent of their 476.5-billion-gallon capacity. The city has asked its residents to conserve water.

It was raining hard early today in southeastern New England. But since the ground was dry when the rain began, it was not expected to cause a serious flooding problem. Nevertheless, the Weather Bureau warned residents of river valleys and lowlands to stay on the alert.

Local Resident Jailed Following Entry Attempt

A 20-year-old man was apprehended last night by Deputy Sheriff Gene Kerns following an unsuccessful attempt to enter Bill's Grocery on the Kings ton Pike.

Held in the Pickaway County Jail pending further investigation is Thurman Eugene Blankenship, Route 1.

Blankenship allegedly admitted to attempting to enter the grocery, and to taking $50 from Jenkin's Sunoco Station.

The sheriff's department was alerted to the attempt by Mrs. William Oiler at 11:38. Deputy Kerns was dispatched to the scene.

He apprehended Blankenship near the Sippico Creek bridge.

NHS General Committee Holds First Meeting

A general committee meeting of the Pickaway County Honor Society was held yesterday in the office of county superintendent of schools George D. McDowell.

Named secretary of the committee was James Brown of Teays Valley.

A meeting with the student officers of the Pickaway County Chapter of the NHS was scheduled Dec. 2.

President of the student group is Arnold Gabriel, Logan Elm. Steven Phillips, is vice president and Patty Collins is secretary. Both are Teays Valley students.

Co-chaplains are Susan Laveck, Logan Elm and Becky Kinsell, Teays Valley.

Plans for the annual county banquet, scheduled April 3, at Logan Elm, will be initiated at this meeting.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Mrs. Dorothy Wamsley, Darby; Miss Patty Strous, Jackson; Mrs. Lillian Gates, Monroe; Brown, Teays Valley; Miss Carol Styers, William-sport.

Loren Beadle, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beadle, Route 3, received emergency aid yesterday at Berger Hospital when he cut his forehead on a board while playing. He was released following treatment.

Project Gemini Is Moving Ahead

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A 90-foot-tall Titan 2 rocket, split into two stages, wheeled carriers. Workmen gingerly started to unload the valuable cargo.

Thus, an Air Force-contractor team began Monday the complex task of preparing the rocket for the first launching in the United States' next man - in-space effort, Project Gemini.

The initial flight will attempt to hoist a mockup model of the two-man Gemini spacecraft into orbit. It will tell engineers many things: the structural compatibility of the spacecraft and booster; temperatures and pressures which will affect the combination; performance of the guidance system, and Titan 2's ability to place a payload into a precise orbit.

The flight will be one of two, perhaps three, unmanned launchings designed to "man-rate" the Titan 2 for astronaut orbital and space rendezvous missions. The first astronaut flight is scheduled late next year.

The intercontinental-range Titan 2 has performed well in military weapon tests—but it is far from ready for manned flight. The major problem is a vibration which could blur the astronauts' instrument panel during the critical launching phase.

The vibration trouble is one reason the Gemini program is a year behind schedule. It has been called the "pogo effect" because it vibrates the length of the missile like a boy hopping up and down on a pogo stick.

The chief of the Air Force Gemini launch division, Lt. Col. John G. Albert, told newsmen about the difficulty.

"It occurs between 90 and 140 seconds after launching and vibrates at 11 cycles per second," he said. "We haven't pinpointed the precise cause. There are several things under study."

The turbopump is believed to be the most likely villain and its impeller is being redesigned. Albert noted the Titan 2 has been modified considerably for the Gemini flights and as a result it may not have the vibration problem.

"That doesn't mean we're not concerned," he said. "It might turn out to be worse."

Space officials are making two approaches to the trouble: surgically cleaning the second stage engine to prevent clogging of fuel orifices and redesigning the engine with more orifices.

Court Lists Four Cases on Docket

The Circleville Municipal Court listed four motorists on the completed traffic docket. They were:

Floyd Satterfield, 57, Mt. Sterling; $30 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Donald A. Davies, 26, Columbus; $22 bond forfeiture for speeding 73 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Millard A. Wallace Jr., 21, Mt. Sterling, $15 and costs with the fine suspended for parking on the traveled portion of the highway. He was placed on probation for one year.

James L. Pine, 18, Washington C. H.; $25 and costs for passing another vehicle when a yellow line was in his lane of traffic.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 29, the 302nd day of 1963. There are 63 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1929, the great depression of the 1930s began when the New York stock market virtually collapsed. A total of 16.4 million shares changed hands on what is known as the most disastrous day in the history of the stock market.

On this date

In 1796, the first ship from the United States to reach a California port arrived at Monterey.

In 1835, the Morse alphabet code for telegraphy was patented.

In 1900, the first names were chosen for the Hall of Fame at New York University and included George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Daniel Webster, Benjamin Franklin, Ulysses S. Grant, John Marshall and Thomas Jefferson.

In 1923 the republic of Turkey was proclaimed.

In 1949, Dr. Alonzo Moron was installed as the first Negro president of Hampton Institute.

Ten years ago . . . Nineteen persons were killed when a British Commonwealth Pacific airliner crashed near San Francisco.

Five years ago . . . The General Electric Company proposed mass production and widespread installation of 50 or more nuclear plants to make atomic power competitive with conventional fuels as early as 1965.

One year ago . . . At the request of acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, the United States lifted its naval quarantine of Cuba as Thant flew to Havana for talks with Cuban premier Fidel Castro.

No Quick A-Bomb For Red Chinese

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, was quoted Monday as saying it will be "several years" before his country can test an atomic bomb.

Kyodo News Service said the Chinese vice premier made this statement in Peking to visiting Japanese newsmen.

Chen reportedly said that the delay in testing was due to the backward state of China's industrial base and that it will be some time before it can mass produce atomic weapons.

But he emphasized the Chinese Communist government has every intention of acquiring nuclear power, because without it China would remain a second or third-class nation.

Wanted in Baltimore
CLEVELAND (AP) — Baltimore police were due here today to pick up Ollie J. Wilkins, 32, a Baltimore postal worker who has admitted to police here of strangling his wife and two sons.

Police said Wilkins surrendered Monday and admitted strangling his wife, Doris, 32, a school teacher, and their two boys, Kevin, 8, and Kerwin, 2, last Friday.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five years ago Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, Oregon Democrat, complained that nobody polices the policeman, that Congress can investigate the whole area of government but nobody polices Congress.

For example: The head of a government department must rid himself of his stock before the Senate, to prevent conflict of interest, lets him take office. This is to prevent his profiting from some company he may do business with.

But a member of Congress can have all kinds of outside interests, and even fight for a law to help those interests, but he doesn't have to rid himself of anything or reveal anything about his total income.

Neuberger said: "I feel it has a corroding effect on government generally when a member of the President's Cabinet can be ordered to jettison his corporate portfolios by senators who themselves may be dabbling in oil, cotton futures, television, hotel chains or uranium."

"If federal commissioners are to be pilloried for accepting airplane tickets to Palm Beach, how can senators and representatives continue profitable associations with law firms retained by banks, railroads, labor unions and utility companies?"

In short Neuberger was calling on Congress, which has passed laws to prevent conflict of interest on the part of federal officials and other government employees, to pass a conflict-of-interest law on itself.

Congress ignored him with great calmness, as it has ignored similar proposals by other members of both houses for years. Recently two former members of Congress were convicted of influence - peddling while they were in Congress.

Neuberger died in 1960. His wife, now Sen. Maurine Neuberger, also an Oregon Democrat, was elected to succeed him that same year. Last week she picked up where her husband left off.

She and Sen. Clifford P. Case, New Jersey Republican, asked consideration of a bill they had introduced requiring top government officers, members of Congress and their staff to report their yearly incomes, including gifts of substance and assets and liabilities and their financial transactions to the comptroller general, with these reports available to press and public.

Case has made this kind of proposal repeatedly and, like the late Neuberger, has been ignored.

He and the present Sen. Neuberger made their pitch in a letter to Sen. B. Everett Jordan, North Carolina Democrat who is chairman of the Senate Rules Committee which today begins an investigation of a former Senate employee, Robert G. Baker.

Baker, who was paid about $20,000 a year, resigned this month as secretary of the Senate Democrats after newspaper disclosure that he seemed to have an extraordinary number of outside financial interests.

His duties included a wide variety of personal and business favors for Senate Democrats. In addition to his various outside business interests he had a law practice.

What started the disclosures about him was a $300,000 civil damage suit filed against him by the Capitol Vending Co. which charged he had accepted commissions of $5,600 to put it machines in plants working for the government and then had ended the deal when Capitol refused to sell out to another vending company in which Baker is alleged to have held stock.

The Jordan committee's hearings on Baker's financial activities were to be held behind closed doors.

Mrs. Neuberger and Case told Jordan that if their bill on financial disclosures by members of Congress and their employees had been law Congress would not have had to be informed about Baker by outside sources.

While Congress has shown practically no interest over the years in proposals like those of Neuberger and Case, it has been prompt to get indignant about wrong-doing in the executive branch and has had full-scale investigations.

Right after President Kennedy took office in 1961 he asked Congress to tighten and broaden the laws against conflict of interest as it applies to employees of the executive branch. The law was passed quickly.

But there's hardly a chance in a billion that Congress will do anything about itself.

Nancy Wilson of Columbus Enjoys Spurt in Her Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I don't know whether I should thank heaven for the march on Washington," says singer Nancy Wilson, "but business has been very good."

Like many Negro performers, Nancy has enjoyed a spurt in her career in recent months. It would appear that the clamor for Negro rights has reached the consciences, or perhaps the hard business minds of those who do the hiring of talent.

A Columbus, Ohio, girl with rare beauty and singing style, Nancy had been doing well on her own. She had been playing some of the better night clubs, with occasional concerts. Her Capitol record albums have been pushing the 100,000 mark.

But only recently has she been getting interest from the important television variety shows and from bookers of the top supper clubs. A significant break-through is her signing with an agency for commercials. Other spots for television are in the offing.

"Things seem to be opening up for all Negro performers," she observed. "Before, when you saw an elevator scene in a movie, the passengers were all white. Now I notice there is a Negro or two. I guess the producers decided that Negroes ride elevators too."

"I believe there will be increasing work for Negro actors and as that happens the caliber of acting will get better. There have been only a few really good ones, because all Negro actors had so little opportunity to demonstrate what they could do."

A Greek seismologist, Angelos G. Galanopoulos, has predicted that Atlantis stood in the Sea of Crete and that its remains are the present islands of Santorin, Tirasia and Kameni.

Even the best of Negro entertainers have a tough time getting to the top, she said.

And what of Nancy Wilson? It has been a long, hard pull up the ladder for the girl who started at 15 with her own television show in Columbus. She grew up there, having been born in Chillicothe, Ohio.

Her home-town success sent her on to New York, where the going was not always easy.

Now the wife of drummer Kenny Dennis and mother of a home here but spends most of her year on the road. "That's all right with me," she said. "I want to sing."

No wonder I'm thrilled with my new GAS Range

It's beautiful and completely automatic even to that amazing Burner-with-a-Brain

Yes, nothing can equal my new Gas Range for the way it looks and the way it cooks. I love the handsome, modern styling that fits into any decorative scheme I choose.

And the way it cooks! I can be busy in another part of the house or even shopping at the supermarket. The Gas Range takes over. Turns itself on to the temperature I want and cooks the roast to rare perfection. If I'm delayed getting home, the Keep-Warm Oven turns itself down and keeps the roast rare for hours.

The Burner-with-a-Brain watches food automatically. No worry about vegetables scorching or messy boilovers.

Smokeless broiling is my assurance of a clean, cool kitchen. And nothing equals Gas to give chops and steaks that wonderful flame-kissed flavor.

The Gas Rotisserie is great for big roasts, poultry and hams. Operates automatically, too.

All of these modern features, available only in Gas Ranges, add up to better meals and more time to enjoy the family. Why not see for yourself . . . at your Gas Appliance Dealer's soon. Why not stop in tomorrow?

No wonder I'm thrilled with my new GAS Range

It's beautiful and completely automatic even to that amazing Burner-with-a-Brain

Yes, nothing can equal my new Gas Range for the way it looks and the way it cooks. I love the handsome, modern styling that fits into any decorative scheme I choose.

And the way it cooks! I can be busy in another part of the house or even shopping at the supermarket. The Gas Range takes over. Turns itself on to the temperature I want and cooks the roast to rare perfection. If I'm delayed getting home, the Keep-Warm Oven turns itself down and keeps the roast rare for hours.

The Burner-with-a-Brain watches food automatically. No worry about vegetables scorching or messy boilovers.

Smokeless broiling is my assurance of a clean, cool kitchen. And nothing equals Gas to give chops and steaks that wonderful flame-kissed flavor.

The Gas Rotisserie is great for big roasts, poultry and hams. Operates automatically, too.

All of these modern features, available only in Gas Ranges, add up to better meals and more time to enjoy the family. Why not see for yourself... at your Gas Appliance Dealer's soon. Why not stop in tomorrow?

Supersonic Reward

An Anglo-French supersonic airliner, the Concord — now expected to be in service before 1970 — will revolutionize long-distance flight and change the average person's concept of time more sharply than did the jet airliners. The new craft is expected to travel at twice the speed of sound, with a full load of passengers, 15 miles above the earth.

What this means in simple terms is that in a Concord supersonic airliner the flight from New York to London would take less than two hours and 30 minutes. A one-day business trip would then be possible.

There are many problems to be solved before the Concord can take to the air. These will take time to solve.

American plane manufacturers who started their own supersonic project later than the English and French, have some advantages. They have gained much valuable information on supersonic speeds from U. S. fighters.

Who is first is vitally important. To the victors go the spoils—in this case huge order.

Furthermore, the supersonic airliner is expected to retain its uniqueness for a long time. It will burst through the sound barrier, but the next barrier is heat, and that will be harder to solve. So far as orders are concerned, they will be rich prizes not likely to come again for many years.

Among the problems still to be solved by the Anglo-French designers of Concord is how to soft-pedal the bang created by the plane as it breaks the sound barrier.

Progress is being made in solving the many problems and all airlines are watching the race. The first in the field, whether Anglo-French or American, will reap the supersonic reward.

Show Business Rarity

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the rarest things in show business are a modest operatic tenor — and a happy actress.

But English actress Julie Andrews right now is dwelling on a peak of ecstasy.

"I'm happier than I have ever been in my life—and I've had a very happy life," she proclaimed, attacking a luncheon plate of eggs Benedict.

The sources of her joy are threefold — marriage, motherhood and career. All are flourishing.

Julie came here to complete a film. With her came her husband and childhood sweetheart, producer Tony Walton, and their chubby-cheeked daughter, Emma Kate, who is in the learning to walk and spilling food on the floor stage.

Motherhood has brought to maturity the bloom of beauty which shone in Julie's performance as the Cockney lass in "My Fair Lady," which she sang over 1,500 times here and in London.

She is reconciled now to the fact that Audrey Hepburn was picked to play the film role.

Her own career is full of so many pending projects she has little time to mull over disappointments. She plans more films, a London musical and perhaps more television shows.

Julie, tall, blonde and stately of bearing, has a warm, friendly, almost madcap quality when she is among friends. She likes to recall the merry times she had when she first came to Broadway.

"We got paid on Fridays," she said, "so on Thursday my roommate and I usually had nothing to eat except eggs we bought at a delicatessen and cooked in our room."

As she spoke, she spilled on the table some sugar she was putting into her tea. Unconsciously, she picked up a few grains—as if they were salt—and tossed them over her left shoulder.

"I might as well. It can't hurt," she said.

"No, I'm not really superstitious. But I'm super, super careful. I always take the joint very well before I take a step in any situation."

Julie said that to her the important things in life are love, health, and a bloody good sense of humor.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Increasingly good business in the next two months—a seasonal hesitancy perhaps in the first couple of months of 1964—and then a moderate but quite healthy gain in the spring.

That's the pleasant expectation of the majority of industrial executives and their economists now being proffered Americans in a steady flow of predictions.

Minorities on both sides of the average offer their variations. Some see a strong advance for all of 1964. A few others think the present upswing in the economy is in its final months, with or without a federal tax cut.

But autumn's flow of increasing corporate earnings, many sweetened by higher profit margins in sales, and the happy excitement in the stock markets with each piece of good news, strengthens the expectation of the majority of business executives that good times are likely to get better before they peter out.

And the majority discounts all indications that the turnabout already may be gestating.

Personal incomes continue to swell, as do consumer spending and the taking on of additional consumer debt. Retail sales hit a record in the summer and seem sure to better the mark in the final months of the year. Auto sales are booming, and that always reassures the public.

Industrial production has climbed higher fairly steadily.

All of this has raised the Gross National Product to a record high, well above what had been expected at the start of the year. This dollar total of all goods and services produced is put at an annual rate of $588.5 billion in the third quarter, a hefty $8.9 billion gain over the April-May-June quarter. A further rise in the final months of this year seems all but in the bag.

So why does the small minority of economists fret?

For one thing, the current business upswing is 32 months old, against an average of 27 months for this phase of the business cycle. The worriers caution that all that goes up must come down. And they add that a federal tax cut, if any, may come too late to stave off the downturn, but merely cushion it a bit.

For another, the economy's two chief weaknesses—the hard core of unemployment and the deficit in international balance of payments—may be alleviated a bit from time to time but still are fundamentally unsolved.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor:

As a parent, teacher and taxpayer, I wish to speak out for the School Bond Levy.

The average tax payer will add $17 to his taxes if the levy is successful. Certainly no one could send his child to a private school for this amount.

I feel we should support local issues for two reasons. One that we may see that our tax dollar is wisely spent as it has been in the new schools to date.

South Court, Nicholas, Mound, Corwin and Atwater are sound, well equipped schools. Money was not wasted on frills unnecessary to good education. The proposed buildings are the most economical solution to the problem of securing sufficient space for our ever growing numbers of junior high and high schools whose classrooms are bursting at the seams.

My second reason is that I feel cities should solve their own problems and not lean increasingly on state and federal funds. In doing so we are giving up a part of our freedom and also getting back less locally for our tax dollars.

Many people have said: "Why should I support this issue? I have no children in school." These people should remember whose taxes paid for their education.

Supporting the schools of today is a small repayment for the education they received at the expense of others.

Also, in giving the present generation an adequate education, we are preparing leaders of tomorrow who will be the guardians of our freedom.

To those who feel the old buildings are "good enough," I would say that I do not see many horses and buggies on the streets today.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The practice of medicine is not a definite science that conforms to rigid rules like other sciences such as mathematics or physics.

In the total equation of health that make medicine an art. The diagnosis and treatment of disease can never be determined with the finality of computer precision.

Attitudes about medicines, their use, their values and their disadvantages sometimes have antagonists as well as adherents.

Such a scientific controversy has existed among doctors about the use of anti-coagulant drugs after a heart attack.

Some heart specialists feel that it is an important factor in the prevention of further attacks. Others are considerably less enthusiastic about it.

There is, however, a common meeting point for these divergent views. All physicians insist that each patient must be considered on an individual basis.

Out of the maze of conflicting evidence on the use of anti-coagulants, there will ultimately emerge a sound medical conclusion. This will then become acceptable to all objective students of medicine. Well-controlled experiments by scientific observers are constantly in progress. They can best evaluate the advantages of the sustained use of an anti-coagulant drug.

When anti-coagulant therapy is used, it necessitates a regular unbroken pattern of blood tests. This constant contact with the doctor enables him to keep under surveillance not only the physical but the emotional balance of his patient.

Within the framework of this observation can lie the total rehabilitation of the patient who had suffered a heart attack.

Recently, a case of poisoning was reported that deserves special attention. A woman had unwittingly bitten into the stalk of the popular house plant, dieffenbachia, sometimes referred to as "dumb cane".

Dr. George Drach and Dr. Waler Mahony of Cleveland very astutely established the relationship between the patient's severe symptoms and the incident. The symptoms caused by the plant poison were severe enough to warrant heroic emer-

Acknowledging a Trend

By John Chamberlain

When Richard Austen — or Rab — Butler was denied the Prime Minister's post in Britain for the second time in seven years by the Conservative Party "establishment" it seemed to many to constitute a rank injustice. For it was Mr. Butler, in company with Iain Macleod, who had done most of the hard dog work that had gone into the post-World War II revitalization of British conservatism. It must have caused Mr. Butler excruciating pain to see the Prime Minister's portfolio go to the relatively unknown Lord Home.

The by-passing of Butler, however, seems to be quite in line with world trends in political affairs, for everywhere there seems to be a hunger for what might be called polarized political representation. In his own way Rab Butler has been an "opening to the Left" man in British conservative circles, which is to say that his political outlines are smudged. He has been against the laborites and the socialists, yes. But when Butler commenced his work some fifteen years ago of refurbishing the Tory "image," it seemed politically necessary to accept most of the Laborite Welfare State measures. Butler, an intellectual, labored hard and long to give Welfareism a conservative twist. But in doing this he incurred the slur that he was a "me too" character. True enough, he talked of preserving a society in which incentives would bulk larger than "fair share" restrictions. But the Butler formulas usually ended in a "yes-but" area — yes, we should encourage private industry, but we must retain the social services to which we have become accustomed.

The Rab Butler "image," then, is of a man of the middle, a centrist. But the centrist everywhere are having difficulty these days. They lose votes in Italy when they bid for socialist support; they get nowhere in de Gaulle's France. It was not so long ago that a Wendell Willkie, a Thomas Dewey, or a non-political General Eisenhower, could marshal the big battalions behind them in fighting for the supreme prize of American Presidency. These were "modern Republicans," very like the "progressive Conservatives" who constituted the Rab Butler — Iain Macleod ring of the British Tory Party. But in 1963 "modern Republicanism" is like a boat without oars. Goldwater, a man of clear outlines, is drawing more and more young Republicans to his standard while Nelson Rockefeller, an American version of Rab Butler, is having his difficulties.

No doubt there is some flummery and insincerity in the turn toward conservative polarization on the part of both British Tories and American Republicans. But there is sound instinct, too. The world is getting tired of meal-mouthedness. People in the democracies expect their leaders to compromise once they are in office, but they are beginning to ask that compromises be made with some regard to general mandates and general philosophical goals. The British Conservative who is willing to compromise toward socialism as a limit is giving way to the Conservative who wants the compromise to go at least a short distance the other way. Lord Home, a man of clear speech, has suddenly become preferable to Rab Butler, the man of blurred edges. And Barry Goldwater, instead of being criticized as a "Neanderthal" for preferring freedom to security, is evoking a curious respect even among those who disagree with some of the things he says.

This is not to say that either the British Tories or the American Republicans, if they are to be the rulers in their respective countries throughout the late

Nineteen Sixties, will abolish the progressive income tax, get rid of all government controls, and abandon the UN to the Afro-Asian bloc. But it does mean that new "working directions" will be instituted. Moore and more attempts will be made to mitigate the steepness of progressive taxation in the middle and upper brackets in order to encourage the sort of investment that multiplies into many jobs. As Britain's Foreign Minister, Lord Home took the unprecedented step a few weeks ago of using the UN as a real sounding board for British interests. A conservative Republican in the White House would almost certainly insist on a similar UN policy for America.

Suddenly it is precision in political definition that people are coming to want. The rise of the Lord Homes and the Barry Goldwaters in Anglo-American politics is not, strange, it merely acknowledges a trend.

Because of this unusual experience, the doctors decided to investigate the dieffenbachia plant. It was found that the plant is commonly grown in the home and in public areas, and that it contains a severely dangerous poison if taken into the mouth.

Since the beautiful large leaf of the dieffenbachia is often used in floral arrangements, the handling of the loose leaves would seem to increase the possibility of accidental poisoning. The tasting curiosity of children makes such plants an unnecessary hazard.

With so many lovely, safe house plants available, it does seem foolhardy to select the dieffenbachia, with its potential toxic danger.

Lord Home, a man of clear speech, has suddenly become preferable to Rab Butler, the man of blurred edges. And Barry Goldwater, instead of being criticized as a "Neanderthal" for preferring freedom to security, is evoking a curious respect even among those who disagree with some of the things he says.

This is not to say that either the British Tories or the American Republicans, if they are to be the rulers in their respective countries throughout the late

Nineteen Sixties, will abolish the progressive income tax, get rid of all government controls, and abandon the UN to the Afro-Asian bloc. But it does mean that new "working directions" will be instituted. More and more attempts will be made to mitigate the steepness of progressive taxation in the middle and upper brackets in order to encourage the sort of investment that multiplies into many jobs. As Britain's Foreign Minister, Lord Home took the unprecedented step a few weeks ago of using the UN as a real sounding board for British interests. A conservative Republican in the White House would almost certainly insist on a similar UN policy for America.

Suddenly it is precision in political definition that people are coming to want. The rise of the Lord Homes and the Barry Goldwaters in Anglo-American politics is nothing strange. It merely acknowledges a trend.

Alert Catches Newsmen with Cameras Down

Air Force Practice

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force called a B52 bomber alert for visiting newsmen Monday—and did it so well that some were caught with their cameras down.

But officers obligingly re-staged the first part of the exercise—a mass mad-rush exodus of bomber crewmen from their underground quarters at this Strategic Air Command base.

The newsmen were on the base for their first inspection of the 15th Air Force's new combat operations center—a computer-packed control building capable of taking over direction of the nation's air might if SAC's center at Omaha, Neb., should be knocked out in war.

The 15th's commander, Lt. Gen. Archie J. Old Jr., told newsmen in a briefing that more than 50 per cent of the 15th's bombers here and at other bases could be put in the air in eight to 10 minutes.

The practice alert his men staged later in the day—without warning to bomber crewmen—made the general out a piker. Eight of the nine huge jet B52s lined up outside the crewmen's standby quarters were ready to roll in four minutes.

A horn sounded at 2:30 p.m. just as the visitors were emerging from a tour of the so-called "alert facility," a fenced-off building where crewmen await an emergency they hope will never come.

Some of the visitors had to move fast to avoid being trampled in the rush of uniformed youngsters who rushed up a ramp to the concrete apron outside.

In less than one minute the first B52's powerful eight-jet engines were roaring.

By 2:34 p.m. the great bombers were ready to roll.

At 2:35 p.m. the engines shut down and the crewmen, proud and expecting praise, came back to their quarters.

Tactfully, their superiors explained that they had responded to the alert so far that many of the cameramen missed the first part of the scramble, and would they please do it again? They did—for the cameramen.

High Production, Profits Keynote For Auto Industry

NEW YORK (AP)—Dazzling profit figures are sprouting from the dizzy production and sales pact set by Detroit's automakers.

They gave promise of warming the hearts—and palms—of stockholders, including the more than one million of the General Motors Corp.

Of the "Big Three" automakers, only Ford Motor Co. remained today to be heard from following GM's report of all-time high earnings and dollar sales in the nine months ended Sept. 30.

Couple Risks Legal Battle To Keep Girl

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A Holland man has promised a court battle to keep a 3-year-old Indian girl he and his wife planned to adopt from being returned to her native village in Montana.

The child, Mathilda Big Head, was taken away from the Emery Elkington family Friday after Montana authorities said the child had been made a ward of the Northern Cheyenne Tribal Court and not eligible for adoption.

She was placed in the Miami Children's Home here to await return to the Cheyenne village in Lake Deer, Mont.

Attorneys for Elkington said they will ask for an injunction to prevent the child's return.

The Elkingtons took Mathilda and her 10-month-old brother from the reservation about 10 days ago after, according to Elkington's attorney, proper legal papers were signed permitting the family to take the child out of the state of Montana.

The boy died last week in a Rockford, Ill., hospital of pneumonia, malnutrition and dehydration.

The plight of the Indian village and the children have touched off a drive by the Elkingtons, who have another adopted son besides three children of their own, to find foster homes and get financial aid for the Indians.

Missile Failure Cause Sought

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Air Force demonstrators today sought the cause of the sixth straight failure of an Atlas missile.

The rocket tumbled out of control shortly after it was launched Monday night in an attempt to boost a deceptive new warhead on a 5,500-mile flight.

The warhead was tapered to reduce the image which might appear on an enemy radar screen.

The failure followed five straight Atlas fizzles at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. Officials had no explanation for the failures.

Old Con Game Nipped in Bud

Alert Teller Saves
Woman's $4,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mattie Lenior's savings bank saved her $4,000 Monday—after she had withdrawn it.

That's what police said as they continued questioning Mrs. Charlene Brown, 34, of Jacksonville, Fla., about what they described as the old "pigeon drop" confidence game trick.

Police said Mrs. Brown and another woman met Mrs. Lenior 70, downtown and told her they had found a box containing $12,000.

If Mrs. Lenior would put up some "good faith" money—her savings of $4,000, for instance—she would get a share of the money in the box.

Mrs. Lenior agreed. She and Mrs. Brown went to her home to get her bank book and then went to the Peebles Corner branch of the Provident Bank, police said.

An unidentified teller at the bank became suspicious when Mrs. Lenior asked for the $4,000 in 40 hundred-dollar bills. The teller alerted police and delayed long enough for two plainclothesmen to arrive.

The plainclothesmen followed Mrs. Lenior from the bank and down the street where she met Mrs. Brown. When Mrs. Brown started hailing a cab, one policeman started to run for his cruiser.

This alarmed the woman. She started to run, but John Edwards, the other plainclothesman, caught her.

Mrs. Lenior told police she was supposed to have gone downtown with Mrs. Brown to get her share of the money from the other woman.

Castro Limits Sale of Beer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio has announced a government ban on daytime sales of beer during work-days, starting today.

Fidel Castro's Interior Ministry set 6:30 p.m. as the time Cubans can start buying their brew.

"In this way workmen can buy beer after they finish their daily work, and vagrants and parasites will not be in a position to obtain great amounts of the product," said the broadcast, monitored in Miami.

Changes Proposed In Tax Function

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Little Hoover Commission has laid down a 13-point program calling for reorganization of the State Department of Taxation.

Some recent changes made by the department are in line with the commission's proposals.

The commission, in a report to Gov. James A. Rhodes Monday, criticized the current operation and said its recommendations could save the state an estimated $300,000.

The commission said its study showed the tax commission's office does not function as economically and efficiently as it should.

"There are too many lines of authority, considerable overlapping of responsibilities and a noticeable lack of office unity," the report said.

Improvement can come from centralization, reorganization, & consolidation, the commission said.

The report said scattered offices in Columbus cause many administrative problems and called for all sections to be housed at one location.

Included in the report were the office of the tax commissioner by dividing it into five basic segments—administration, district activities, law, property taxes and sales, excise and highway use taxes.

The commission said $125,000 could be saved a year by consolidating the personal property and corporate franchise tax groups at the district level and in Columbus under one manager.

The report called for the combining of branch and district offices and suggests further study to determine if district offices of the sales, excise, and highway use tax division in Dayton, Akron, Zanesville and Portsmouth are needed.

Re-districting to a six-office structure could save on personnel and yield approximately $125,000 annually, the commission said.

The commission said that in some cities two branches of the Tax Department run separate offices—sometimes in the same building—with two separate staffs. The report said such offices in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Toledo and Lima should be consolidated wherever possible.

Views on Television—Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's television viewers have some interesting choices available Wednesday night. They are, among other network items, such dramas as "He Rises on Sunday and We on Monday," "Little Drops of Water, Little Grains of Sand," "Oh, You Shouldn't Have Done It," and "The Potato Bash World."

The foregoing are the titles of episodes in network television series—respectively "Espionage," "Ben Casey," "11th Hour" and "Channing." There seems to be some sort of a quiet contest going on this season to find the longest, most non-committal and weird title for a script.

The fad for surrealist titles seems to have started with the avant-garde playwrights who are whipping up titles like "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

Such tags may amuse the writers, but they really don't do a thing for the show. Some well-established programs have resisted the vogue. Both "Wagon Train" and "Perry Mason" have used the same titles, with minor variations, for each episode since they started.

Walt Disney is no man to fool around, either. Last Sunday's show was called "The Waltz King," and the story was about a waltz king.

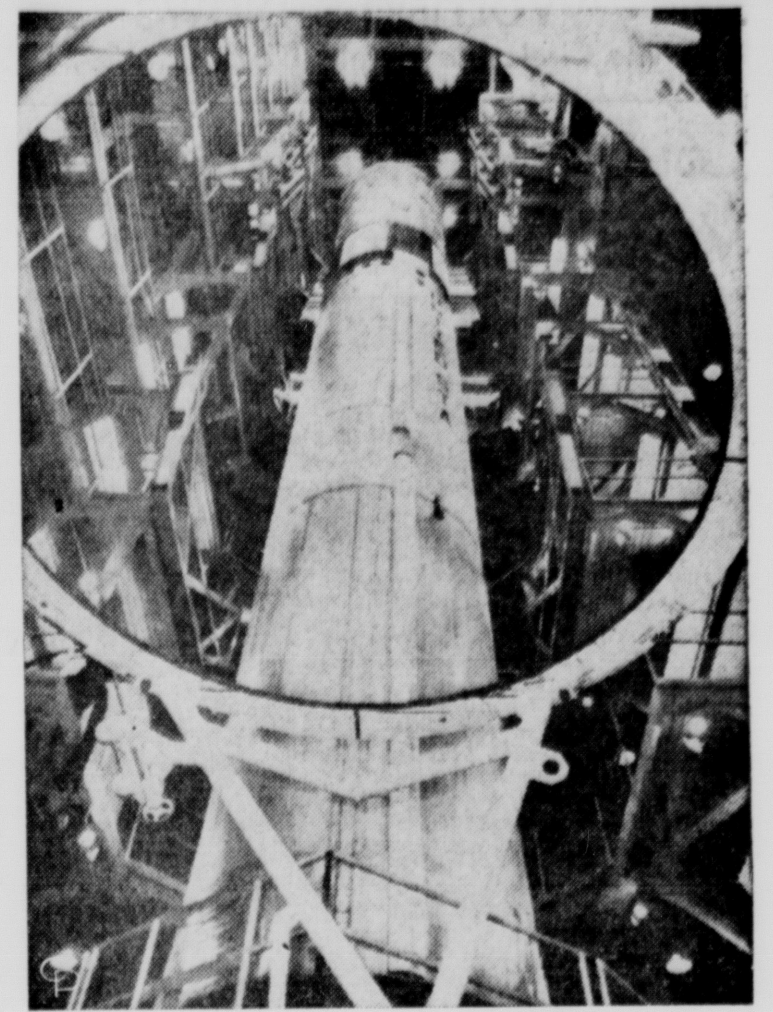

So how do you feel about "Comfort Me With Yoyos," "Child One With Broken Guitar String,"? They are titles of future "Channing" episodes—unless someone gets there first with a big blue pencil.

CBS has a second Allen Funt show warming up in television's bullpen in the likely event that its "Glynis" succumbs after a few more weeks. The working title—and one hopes it is just that—is "Americamera." Tappings start next week.

The idea is to tap the ham in the average citizen by permitting him to appear before some cameras, and to say or do anything that comes into his head. This includes, heaven help us, telling jokes, airing gripes or even reciting home-grown poetry and prose.

CBS has an order in for 13 shows.

"Like Eggs? They're Great Eating With Sausage," Says Farmer Bob Evans

The worried look on Sarge, the Bob Evans' boxer, doesn't mean the well-known Ohio farmer has switched to egg raising in a big way.

Farming and sausage making are still the main occupations of Bob Evans. But like most folks, he likes eggs just about any style. He admits a natural preference for them served with Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

Talk with Bob Evans and he will likely tell you, "Eggs are as American as a wake-up cup of coffee. And in Ohio, at least, I suspect that fresh country sausage has taken over as the number one combination with eggs—not only for breakfast—but for any main meal."

Freshness may be one reason, believes Bob. Both eggs and sausage must be fresh to be good. Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made fresh on the farm every day and rushed by refrigerated trucks right to stores. This wasn't possible in the old days.

Another reason is the way Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made with all the choice cuts of hams and tenderloins included. Every pound is made in the southern Ohio hills, either near the 820-acre Homestead farm on U. S. Route 35 north of Gallipolis, or on a second farm near Xenia.

NEW YORK (AP)—Dazzling profit figures are sprouting from the dizzy production and sales pact set by Detroit's automakers.

Of the "Big Three" automakers, only Ford Motor Co. remained today to be heard from following GM's report of all-time high earnings and dollar sales in the nine months ended Sept. 30.

Chrysler Corp. last week unfolded another financial chapter in its spectacular. Directors promptly voted a 2-for-1 stock split, the second in less than a year, and in effect doubled the dividend.

GM's pattern of rewarding its shareholders—whether by more liberal dividend treatment or possibly a stock split—will be decided when directors meet Monday in New York.

In the first nine months, GM cleared $1,086,000,000, or $3.79 a common stock share, on unprecedented sales of $11,681,000,000.

The results suggested strongly that GM was on the way to shattering 1962's records for a full year of $1,459,000,000 in earnings and $14,640,000,000 in sales, levels unequaled by any manufacturing corporation.

The nine-month figures compared with $962 million, or $3.36 a share, cleared in the comparable 1962 period, on sales of $10,451,000,000.

Wall Street has been alive with speculation over what GM directors will do next week. Many traders and brokers looked at least for a rise in the regular dividend rate, pegged at 50 cents a quarter since 1956, or a fat year-end extra.

Some held hope of a stock split. GM last divided its shares in 1955 on a 3-for-1 basis, and before that split 2-for-1 in October 1950.

Stiff Penalty For Vandalism

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Three former college students, accused of causing more than $5,000 in damage on a tire slashing spree Oct. 14, were sentenced Monday to contact personally over 100 owners of damaged autos.

Justice Ellsworth Gump found the trio guilty on charges of vagrancy and malicious destruction of property. He sentenced them to a year in jail with all but 90 days suspended.

The youths—Michael L. Skovron, 20, Great Falls, Mont., Edward M. McElligott, 19, Anchorage, Alaska; and Phillip J. Sheridan, 18, Everett, Wash.—will serve 60 days of the sentence in jail.

The other 30 days they will split up, each taking a third of the owners of the 250 tires slashed. They will contact the owners, according to the sentence, to arrange for restitution. They were earlier dropped from Gonzaga University here.

Girls who will live at home and commute to school can continue to apply, Gerlach said. He urged others to apply for admission to Miami's general college at Dayton, which will open next September.

Applications from freshman men are still being accepted, but Gerlach said the cut-off date may be Christmas instead of next spring.

Fire Strikes Large Silo

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP) — Law enforcement officers, civil defense workers and volunteers tried in vain today to pull apart a silo at the Tiro Grain Elevator in nearby Tiro to prevent it from exploding following a $100,000 fire.

But soon after dismantling efforts began, fires broke out again and workers had to retreat to make room for firefighters from Tiro, New Washington, Shelby and Plymouth.

The main fire was brought under control Monday night about five hours after it broke out. But the thousands of gallons of water poured onto the blaze were absorbed by soybeans inside, causing the sides of the silo to begin bulging. Workers feared it would explode under the pressure of the swelling beans.

Highway patrolmen, Crawford County sheriff's deputies and city police blocked off all roads in the area of the elevator as a precaution in case of an explosion.

Fire officials said the damage probably will greatly exceed $100,000 by the time the trouble is over.

The cause of the fire was blamed on an overheated wire in a cob bin.

GEMINI LAUNCH VEHICLE—The first USAF Titan II Gemini launch vehicle accepted by NASA is shown at the Martin plant near Baltimore. It will be shipped to Cape Canaveral, Fla., where it will launch the first unmanned Gemini spacecraft into orbit in the next few months. The first step is to lower the second stage (the part above the painted area) by crane to the upright ring in foreground. It will be bolted on, then lowered to a horizontal position on a dolly.

"Like Eggs? They're Great Eating With Sausage," Says Farmer Bob Evans

The worried look on Sarge, the Bob Evans' boxer, doesn't mean the well-known Ohio farmer has switched to egg raising in a big way.

Farming and sausage making are still the main occupations of Bob Evans. But like most folks, he likes eggs just about any style. He admits a natural preference for them served with Bob Evans Farms Sausage.

Talk with Bob Evans and he will likely tell you, "Eggs are as American as a wake-up cup of coffee. And in Ohio, at least, I suspect that fresh country sausage has taken over as the number one combination with eggs—not only for breakfast—but for any main meal."

Freshness may be one reason, believes Bob. Both eggs and sausage must be fresh to be good. Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made fresh on the farm every day and rushed by refrigerated trucks right to stores. This wasn't possible in the old days.

Another reason is the way Bob Evans Farms Sausage is made with all the choice cuts of hams and tenderloins included. Every pound is made in the southern Ohio hills, either near the 820-acre Homestead farm on U. S. Route 35 north of Gallipolis, or on a second farm near Xenia.

Dear Abby: Her Sons Are 'Lost'!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the debate on whether boys or girls were preferable: You never spoke truer words, Abby, when you said, "Wait for your sunset years and see who gives you more attention." I am the mother of married sons and daughters. My daughters call me every day and always find time to drop by to see Dad and me. Our sons have grown apart from us. It makes no difference how loving a son is, once he is married (except in rare cases) you might as well kiss him goodbye. Nine times out of ten his wife takes him over to her side of the family.

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE: Are the parents of your daughters' husbands complaining about the attention you get? Things even out. Besides, don't generalize. All married sons are not "lost." And more often than not, Mom and Dad retain the devotion they've earned.

DEAR ABBY: NO problems, but I want to tell you how much my husband and I enjoy your column. By the way, we raise basset hounds and one of the best females we ever owned was named Abigail. She has whelped many a champion.

ANNETTE

DEAR ANNETTE: I've whelped a couple myself. But could your dog write?

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago

you published a letter from a truck driver's wife. It seems her husband came home from a run with a long scratch on his thigh. He told his wife it must have been caused by a sharp feather in the motel mattress. Wife was suspicious. And YOU, Dear Abby, didn't help matters much when you replied "A likely story! They don't put feathers in mattresses anymore. It was probably the whole chick." Well I have news for you. This morning I awakened with a handsome scratch on my backside. I know they don't put feathers in mattresses anymore, and since here were no chicks around. I investigated. I found they do put steel springs in mattresses these days, and one sharp coil had come loose and worked its way through to me!

Sincerely,

VICTIM

DEAR ABBY: The controversy about the Little League manager brought to mind this amusing story: A Little League pitcher had walked the first eight men at bat. The manager sent in a new pitcher. Out of the crowd stormed the lad's mother. "What do you mean taking him out of the game?" she yelled. "He had a no-hitter going!"

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

NATIONAL DISGRACE: It's a national disgrace that Washington has one of the nation's finest sports stadiums but no national cultural center, says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

Testifying before a special Senate subcommittee on the arts Monday, Humphrey said: "The Berlin Opera House makes anything we have in Washington look like a woodshed."

The Minnesota Democrat backed bills that would permit the federal government to take a more active part in development of the arts.

LAOS REDS: The State Department has warned that Communist forces in Laos have received considerable quantities of supplies and military hardware in recent weeks.

In a news conference Monday, press officer Robert McCloskey said there was "some indication" that Vietnamese Communists were strengthening the Pathet Lao in the area of the Plain de Jarres. But he said it is not clear if these actions mean the Communists will attack forces of the neutralist central government as they did last spring.

MOON LANDING TALKS: Chairman Clinton P. Anderson of the Senate Space Committee says the United States should be willing to discuss exchanging information with Russia on how to land a man on the moon. In a statement Monday, the New Mexico Democrat said he did not regard remarks by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as rejecting President Kennedy's proposal for U.S.-Soviet cooperation on flights to the moon.

Anderson said he felt Khrushchev's statement was "a deferral of a manned lunar landing and a willingness to find out how this nation intends to conduct its lunar expeditions."

Erhard Scheduled As Kennedy Guest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of Germany will be a presidential guest when he visits the United States next month.

That classification calls for red carpet treatment but is one step in the protocol list below a state visit, which may be made only by a chief of state, Erhard, as a head of government, is not in that category.

According to tentative plans the chancellor should arrive in Williamsburg, Va., Sunday, Nov. 24, and be flown by helicopter to the White House on Monday morning. He is scheduled to spend two days here and depart Nov. 27.

Monrovia Garden Club Slates Meet

Mrs. Clara Woods, Commercial Point, will entertain members of the Monrovia Garden Club 8 p. m. Monday.

Miss Keeler Faces Charge Of Perjury

LONDON (AP)—Playgirl Christine Keeler was held for trial today on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice. Conviction on these charges carries a maximum penalty of 28 years in prison.

Also held for trial at the Old Bailey Court were Christine's three co-defendants. The action was taken after a preliminary hearing by Marylebone magistrate's court.

The others are Christine's apartment mate, Paula Hamilton-Marshall, 23; their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56; and West Indian Rudolph Fenton, 39.

Their trial before a jury was ordered by the judge after the police prosecutor finished presenting evidence charging that Miss Keeler and her co-defendants gave false testimony and concealed relevant facts in the trial of Christine's ex-lover, Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, when he was convicted earlier this year of having beaten her.

Christine, 21, whose affair with former War Minister John Profumo rocked the British government, was charged with committing perjury to get Gordon, a Negro, sent to jail.

Wife Got Shock, But Judge Lenient

LONDON (AP)—England's high court ruled Monday that an electrical trap a man rigged up to bar his wife from his home did not in itself break the law.

The husband is Frederick Munks, 26, a miner. To keep his estranged wife, Doreen, out of his house he wired his windows with 240 volts from a kitchen plug. Doreen got a shock, and Munks was convicted of violating the offenses against the Person Act of 1861.

The judges quashed Munks' 18-month sentence and said the 1861 act covered a spring gun, a man trap, "or any other engine." The court held that the electrical device did not come under the definition of "any other engine."

Wilmington College Names Dayton Man

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—James M. Stuart of Dayton has been named chairman of the Wilmington College Hermann Challenge Fund. It was announced today. Stuart is chairman of the board and president of the Dayton Power & Light Co.

The $2.5 million, one-year fund raising campaign for the college will be in response to a challenge gift of $740,000 made by Chicago industrialist Grover M. Hermann. Hermann's gift is to be met on a two-for-one basis by other friends and alumni of the college.

Tiger Frosh Drop Final Tilt, 20-8

The Circleville High School Freshman football team closed out its season last night with a 20-8 loss to visiting J. A. Smith of Chillicothe.

The Tigers' defense gave up a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter as the visitors completely dominated the play in the first half.

Behind solid solid running by Tom Jenkins, Tom Fletcher and Mike Wells, the Tigers mounted a 60-yard scoring drive early in the fourth period.

Jenkins scored the counter on a short yardage plunge.

QUARTERBACK Dannie Gibb hit Terry Martin in the end zone with a pass for conversion.

The Tigers trailed 14-8 at this point but the visitors marched right back with a drive that was highlighted with a 60-yard run, to score again.

The first touchdown for Chillicothe was set up when the Tigers fumbled deep in their own territory.

The frosh gridders have a record of one win and four losses.

Jackie Had His Own Type Of Radar

PARIS, France (AP)—Jackie Nicklaus played the last round of the Canada Cup Golf Tournament in a swirling fog Monday as if he had a radar—and he did.

The 32-year-old husky hitter from Columbus, Ohio, disclosed after he had won individual title with a 63-hole total of 237 and the team title for the United States with Arnold Palmer a 482, that he carried a "kind of radar."

"It's in my hip pocket in the shape of a card," he said. "I pace every course I play. I know the distances, not by just looking, but by knowing. I don't play by visual guessing of distances."

Nicklaus, who had played well in the fog once before in the 1959 U.S. Amateur at Colorado Springs, Colo., did the final nine holes in a four-under-par 32. The last nine holes were canceled because of the fog that blanketed the course for the second straight day.

Nicklaus' total was five strokes better than Sebastian Miguel of Spain and South African Gary Player, who finished in a tie for second.

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer carded a 63-hole team total of 482—22-under-par for the Saint-nm-la-Breteche course in the suburbs of Paris. They were three strokes better than second-placed Spaniards Miguel and Ramon Sota, and 10 better than Player and Retief Waltman of South Africa.

Palmer never got his putter working like he normally does and finished with a 34 for a total of 245. He was tied in fifth with Al Balding of Canada and Bruce Crampton of Australia.

Massillon Still Out Front In Quest of State Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Title time is only a few weeks away, and Massillon's nine-time state champions are still out front in the Ohio high school football race.

Leo Strang's once-beaten Stark County powerhouse stretched its lead a bit today in the weekly Associated Press poll over Springfield South's challenging Wildcats and the 1961 Red Dragon champs of Niles McKinley.

A week ago the Tigers led Springfield by only three poll points, 281 to 278, while Niles was eight points further back. Today Massillon held a 279 to 256 edge over the Wildcats, and Niles was only two points behind Springfield.

Massillon's 22-8 victory over Warren's rugged Panthers helped the Tiger cause as 48 sports writers voted in the poll. Springfield ran its winning streak to eight with a 38-6 triumph over Hamilton Garfield, while Niles stepped outside the state to pin a 27-6 defeat on Farrell, Pa.

Sandusky's Blue Streaks, tied once in eight games, smothered Fremont 34-0 and gained on everyone by picking up 26 points over last week's total of 230, while all three leaders were dropping back.

Alliance, 10th last week, was victimized 41-0 by resurgent Canton McKinley. The three-beaten Bulldogs, who smothered Steubenville a week ago, climbed into a tie for 10th with Fremont St. Joseph's eight-game

Grid Helmets Take Blast in Heavy Contact

CHICAGO (AP) — Of course, you never got hit in the head with a ball bat swung by Mickey Mantle.

But that's as much force as a college football player receives on his helmet each time he crashes into an opponent.

The helmet is subjected to blows of more than 5,000 times the force of gravity. This is considered the same number of G's a baseball encounters when it is slammed for a home run by Mantle.

The figures were reported today by Dr. Stephen E. Reid, an associate professor of surgery at the Northwestern University Medical School in a talk before the National Safety Congress.

Reid, a star guard on Northwestern's 1936 Big Ten football team, has been studying head injuries in football for two years.

In this fall's Northwestern games, fullbacks Bill Swingle and Steve Murphy have been wired with miniature electronic gear in their helmets and shoulder pads. The packet measures the blows, converts them into electrical impulses and broadcasts them by an FM radio in the shoulder pads to a telemetry station in the press box. The entire device weighs six ounces.

In the booth, the impacts are recorded on a high-speed, direct-writing oscilloscope. "The study has been undertaken to determine how efficiently helmets protect the head and how the equipment can be improved," Reid said.

Next step will be to incorporate a device to record the effects of impacts on the player's brain during a game.

Bellamy Leading NBA in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Walt Bellamy of the Baltimore Bullets is the top scorer in the National Basketball Association after the first two weeks of play.

Wilt Chamberlain of San Francisco is in sixth place.

The NBA's first statistical release of the season showed Bellamy in the No. 1 spot today with 175 points in six games and a 29.2 average. Bob Pettit of St. Louis also has a 29.2 average but has played one less game and is in second place with 146 points.

Scoring record-holder Chamberlain is sixth with 102 points and a 25.5 average.

Palmer Top Man In Pro Golf Income

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — The top 10 touring professional golfers have won $607,731 this year headed by Arnold Palmer with $128,230, the PGA reported today.

The figures include official PGA tournaments only through the Fresno Open last week.

Mason Rudolph's victory in that event boosted him to seventh place with $35,495.

Jack Nicklaus is in second place among the winners with $38,990.

The St. Louis Cardinals won season series from the Pirates, Colts and Mets by the same tally, 13 games to 5.

Woody Preps for Encounter with Iowa

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jubilant Woody Hayes, still on Cloud Nine after Ohio State's upset victory over Wisconsin last weekend, appears ready to get down to the serious business of preparing for Saturday's encounter with Iowa.

"We may have a problem getting ready for a good Iowa team," Hayes told his Monday press luncheon.

The Buckeye coach, obviously delighted with Ohio's 13-10 triumph over the Badgers, nevertheless showed some concern over the battle with the Hawkeyes.

"We have to cut out a lot of mistakes and make a lot of improvements," Hayes insisted.

He was quick to pay tribute to a Wisconsin team "which had tremendous overall ability and possibly was the best Badger squad we ever faced."

Hayes also singled out Den Unverferth, the Dayton sophomore signal caller who engineered Ohio's winning touchdown drive, and fullback Matt Snell.

"Snell gave us a great game," Hayes said, "and sitting on the bench didn't wilt Unverferth. He

Four County Teams Slate Home Games

The basketball season officially opens in Pickaway County Friday night.

The four schools in the Westfall District all open with home games. Williamsport plays Kingston, Jackson plays Clarksburg, Darby plays Ohio Deaf and Monroe plays Bucksin.

On Saturday the only game on tap finds the Monroe Indians traveling to Ohio Deaf for an engagement.

Schools in the Westfall district have been practicing since the early part of the month.

ALTHOUGH the district as a whole had a practice football team, it played no official games and had no effect on basketball.

Schools with grid teams may start playing Nov. 20. In Pickaway County those schools are Logan Elm and Teays Valley.

The Vikings of Teays Valley wrap up their grid schedule this weekend when they play undefeated Watkins Memorial and Logan Elm has two games remaining.

Profits in AFL Showing Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Four, and possibly six, of the eight teams in the American Football League will show a profit for the 1963 season, Commissioner Joe Foss announced.

Foss said Monday that attendance had passed the 600,000 mark at the halfway point of the season—an increase of 80,000 at this stage last year.

"We really are moving along," said Foss. "Dollar volume is up 29 per cent. All the clubs are up."

Foss declined to name the teams who were in the black but made it clear that New York and Oakland still are on the losing side of the ledger.

Tiger Frosh Drop Final Tilt, 20-8

The Circleville High School Freshman football team closed out its season last night with a 20-8 loss to visiting J. A. Smith of Chillicothe.

The Tigers' defense gave up a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter as the visitors completely dominated the play in the first half.

Behind solid running by Tom Jenkins, Tom Fletcher and Mike Wells, the Tigers mounted a 60-yard scoring drive early in the fourth period.

Jenkins scored the counter on a short yardage plunge.

QUARTERBACK Dannie Gibl hit Terry Martin in the end zone with a pass for conversion.

The Tigers trailed 14-8 at this point but the visitors marched right back with a drive that was highlighted with a 60-yard run, to score again.

The first touchdown for Chillicothe was set up when the Tigers fumbled deep in their own territory.

The frosh gridders have a record of one win and four losses.

Jackie Had His Own Type Of Radar

PARIS, France (AP)—Jackie Nicklaus played the last round of the Canada Cup Golf Tournament in a swirling fog Monday as if he had a radar—and he did.

The 32-year-old husky hitter from Columbus, Ohio, disclosed after he had won individual title with a 63-hole total of 237 and the team title for the United States with Arnold Palmer a 482, that he carried a "kind of radar."

"It's in my hip pocket in the shape of a card," he said, "I pace every course I play. I know the distances, not by just looking, but by knowing. I don't play by visual guessing of distances."

Nicklaus, who had played well in the fog once before in the 1959 U.S. Amateur at Colorado Springs, Colo., did the final nine holes in a four-under-par 32. The last nine holes were canceled because of the fog that blanketed the course for the second straight day.

Nicklaus' total was five strokes better than Sebastian Miguel of Spain and South African Gary Player, who finished in a tie for second.

Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer carried a 63-hole team total of 482—22-under-par for the Saint-nom-la-Breche course in the suburbs of Paris. They were three strokes better than second-placed Spaniards Miguel and Ramon Sota, and 10 better than Player and Retief Waltman of South Africa.

Palmer never got his putter working like he normally does and finished with a 34 for a total of 245. He was tied in fifth with Al Balding of Canada and Bruce Crampton of Australia.

never waste heat on the ceiling or out the chimney

It pays for itself with the fuel it saves!

We don't blame you for hitting the ceiling if you continually pay for heat you don't get! The new SIEGLER Oil Home Heater wrings the heat out of every drop of oil, then pours it out over your floor. With a SIEGLER, you get the comfort miracle of SUPER FLOOR HEAT, no over-heated ceilings and low, low fuel bills.

Fur, Fin and Campfire

By BILL BERO

IT GETS MIGHTY COLD camping out these late-summer nights and to help you here are some tips:

CLEAR THE GROUND WHERE YOU ARE PLACING YOUR SLEEPING BAG SO THAT YOU DON'T SLEEP ON STONES, STICKS ETC. SELECT A LEVEL SITE OR YOU'LL ACHE ALL OVER IN MORNING.

PLACE A PIECE OF PLASTIC OR OIL CLOTH ON GROUND FIRST, THEN YOUR AIR MATTRESS. A FOLDED BLANKET WILL HELP AS WILL SOME STRAW, LEAVES OR GRASS.

DON'T SLEEP TOO CLOSE TO A FIRE, ESPECIALLY IF YOU'RE USING STRAW OR PAPER AS INSULATION.

Texas No. 1 in Grid Poll; Buckeyes Nail Down Ninth

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Texas still is No. 1 in college football, but who's No. 2? The ballots says Illinois but the voters are in sharp disagreement.

One member of the Associated Press football board of sports writers and broadcasters put it this way: "Snow White Texas No. 1, followed by the following dwarfs."

The Texas Longhorns, who won their sixth game of the season by the rather close score of 10-6 against dangerous Rice, received 49 first place votes and two seconds from the 51 AP board members voting. That gave them 508 points of a possible 510 on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc. down to one for 10th.

Illinois got one vote for first, and the bulk of the seconds, 19, but was listed at every spot except ninth. Navy, which drew the other first place vote, was named for each of the other nine places at least twice. Auburn, Alabama and Wisconsin received votes for every place from two through 10. Votes for Mississippi, which wound up third, and for Oklahoma were almost as widely scattered.

Illinois drew a total of 358 points to become a distant second to Texas. Mississippi received 306 points for third while Navy beat out Auburn 278-265 for fourth. Others in the thoroughly shaken-up Top Ten listing were Oklahoma, Alabama, Wisconsin, Ohio State and Pittsburgh.

Illinois and Ole Miss had been fourth and fifth a week ago and Navy 10th while Wisconsin and Pitt had held the second and third spots. Wisconsin dropped to eighth after a 13-10 loss to Ohio State, which returned to the Top Ten after a two week absence. Pitt, after its 24-12 beating by Navy, barely edged resurgent Southern California the 1962 national champion, for the last place. Northwestern, suffering its second Big Ten defeat 15-7 to Michigan State, dropped out of the Top Ten.

Illinois moved up on the strength of its 18-12 Friday night victory over UCLA and Mississippi whipped Vanderbilt 27-7 Saturday. Each is undefeated but has played one tie. Unbeaten Auburn was idle last week but advanced from eighth to fifth.

Oklahoma and Alabama exchanged places, the Sooners going up and the Tide down, although both won. Oklahoma walloped Kansas State 34-9 while Alabama had some trouble subduing Houston 21-13.

The top ten teams and points	Pts.
1. Texas	508
2. Illinois	358
3. Mississippi	306
4. Navy	278
5. Auburn	265
6. Oklahoma	246
7. Alabama	213
8. Wisconsin	181

New Hope Looms in Search To Implant Human Heart

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For four days last July, a man lived with a substitute plastic pump implanted in his heart.

It coursed the blood through his body, driven by a pulsing air compressor lying beside him.

It marked the first historic step in a human, with partial success, toward the grand goal of giving doomed heart patients a substitute mechanical heart to restore health and life.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, professor of surgery at Baylor University Medical School, described the human drama and its portent at closing sessions of the American Heart Association.

Only 42, the man had congestive heart failure and had lost 50 pounds during two weeks in the hospital despite all medicines. A faulty heart valve was replaced, but he grew worse.

His left ventricle, the heart chamber which pumps blood through the great artery or aorta to all parts of the body was weakened. His lungs filled with fluid. His heart kept stopping.

On July 19, doctors put the substitute plastic chamber in the man's heart. The compressor, through an air tube leading through the chest wall to the plastic chamber, restored a strong heart beat.

Blood pressure and the electrical action of his heart returned to normal.

He lived four days, then succumbed to past complications that couldn't be overcome, Dr. DeBakey said, adding, "had he been less severely ill, we might have saved him."

And the patients?

For temporary resting of the heart—for days or weeks, far longer than can be done with external heart-lung machines—the bypass pumping chamber could very well see patients past a crisis.

Council Move Places Less Emphasis on Virgin Mary

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council emphasized its consideration of the Virgin Mary today, voting narrowly to incorporate a separate document concerning her in a larger schema on the Roman Catholic Church as a whole.

The action is expected to have wide implications for efforts to promote Christian unity. Protestants often have criticized Roman Catholic emphasis on Mary.

In another major action, the council approved a document endorsing efforts to work out an international perpetual calendar and a fixed date for Easter. The vote was 2,154 in favor, 21 against, and 16 in favor with reservations. Two ballots were null.

The vote on Mary was closer. A council spokesman said 1,114 prelates voted to incorporate consideration of the Virgin's place in Catholic theology in a broad schema or topic on the nature of the Church, while 1,074 voted to consider a separate schema on Mary.

Two council fathers voted for incorporation with reservations, and three ballots were blank.

It was one of the closest votes in the council since the assembly of 2,300 prelates opened more than a year ago. Council decisions usually require a two-thirds majority, but the action today was considered procedural and required only a majority of the 2,193 prelates voting, or 1,097 votes.

As a result of the vote, the Marian topic will become a chapter in the theological schema "De Ecclesia," which the council has been debating for the past month. "De Ecclesia" examines the nature and structure of the Roman Catholic Church.

At the heart of the matter is the highly controversial question of whether the role of the mother of Christ has been over-emphasized in Roman Catholic theology.

Some of the delegates feel a separate schema might put undue emphasis on Mary and distort her role in the church. This group holds that by making the Marian document part of a larger topic on the nature of the Church, the council could improve relations with Protestants.

3 Trapped Miners in Good Spirits

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP) — Three high-spirited men trapped in an iron ore mine since Thursday continued cracking jokes with their rescuers today as a rescue shaft passed the halfway mark.

"Don't send down too much stuff—we'll only have to bring it out of the shaft again," one of the miners quipped over a supply tube that has been bored down to them 259 feet below the surface.

Hot food, warm clothing and the sports sections of newspapers go down to the three via the six-inch tube.

If boring operations continue at the present rate of five feet per hour, the men could be rescued Wednesday. But Rudolf Stein, the mine director, warned that geological variations in the earth could slow the speed of the drilling.

After 46 hours of drilling, the rescue shaft had reached the halfway mark.

A more powerful drilling rig was put into action today on a second rescue shaft.

The three were trapped in an air pocket in a gallery when a nearby dam burst and flooded the mine. Eighty-six miners managed to escape, but 40 others are still unaccounted for and are believed to have drowned.

Key Primaries May Be Test For Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP)—A half dozen primaries in strategic states are shaping up as likely testing grounds if Sen. Barry Goldwater bids actively for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater's strategists say that because their man is not an announced candidate they have made no decision on which, if any, of the preferential contests he will enter.

Nevertheless, pressures are building among local supporters to get the Arizona senator on the ballot in several states. They say this would demonstrate that his support for the nomination comes from all sections of the United States.

Goldwater himself has made it clear that if he runs, he will enter the March 10 New Hampshire primary. He might collide there with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Goldwater backers now seem certain to put the senator into the Illinois April 14 primary even though the results will not be binding on the 58-vote convention delegation. The candidate's consent is not required although he could withdraw if he chose.

Other possible dates Goldwater may have with the voters in the primaries include Nebraska May 12; Oregon May 15; Florida May 26; and California June 2.

The Goldwater people are not ruling out the possibility that his name will be entered in two other contests where the candidate's consent is not required. These include Pennsylvania April 28 and New Jersey April 21.

New Mail Sorting Device Is Due Soon

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A new technique for sorting and canceling first class mail through use of ultra violet light rays will be put into operation soon in the Dayton Post Office, postmaster Hugh T. Albright says.

He said Dayton will be the first city to use a device developed by the National Cash Register Co., headquartered here, to sort mail containing stamps treated with a phosphor coating.

The Post Office here has been experimenting with mail containing specially treated air-mail stamps. During the test letters were cancelled with at least 100 per cent accuracy at a rate of 30,000 an hour.

Fluorinated Water Shows Good Results

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tooth decay among Pittsburgh school children has been cut by about 66 per cent since the area's water was fluoridated, Allegheny County health authorities say.

Fluorine was added to water supplies in 1952. At that time, the average child had 4.53 permanent teeth affected by decay compared to 1.50 teeth last year, according to Dr. Jerome Altman, county dental examiner.

A study was carried out on 35,009 children between the ages of 6 and 18.

Cole demonstrates how gun barrels used to be made. He is using a 150-year-old drill for boring flintlock barrels.

Municipal Judges Said Lax In Fining Liquor Violators

CLEVELAND (AP) — A state liquor department enforcement officer says some Municipal Court judges are failing to follow the law in fining liquor violators.

The officer, Ralph W. Kreiger, enforcement chief for a five-county area in northeastern Ohio, blamed the courts for a breakdown in enforcement.

Steel Firm Plans New Coke Ovens

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—The Detroit Steel Corp. plans to build a new battery of coke ovens at its Portsmouth Division plant here next year.

The firm's board of directors has approved the plan at a cost estimated between $5 - $6 million.

Max J. Zivian, president of Detroit Steel, announced that work would begin sometime next year. No plans or specifications have been prepared yet.

Zivian said the company faced the alternative of building new ovens or abandoning existing facilities and buying coke from other firms.

Zivian termed present facilities, constructed in 1917, as antiquated. He said the company's decision to build new facilities will result in retention of jobs by current employees.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Hundreds of Negroes surged through a North Philadelphia neighborhood Monday night protesting the slaying of a Negro by a policeman. Many of them broke windows, looted stores or menaced white drivers, authorities said.

Policemen estimated about 500 Negroes rioted through the streets before they were dispersed by about 60 policemen. Shattered glass littered the streets until garbage trucks and street cleaners moved in this morning.

Twenty-three persons, 19 of them minors, were arrested on charges of malicious mischief, disorderly conduct or breach of the peace.

Frank Johnson, 38, a policeman, was struck on the head by a milk bottle while trying to break up one mob. He fell to the ground unconscious and was taken to a hospital.

Other policemen were pelted with stones or bottles but none required treatment.

The neighborhood has been tense since Saturday's slaying of Willie Philpaw Jr., 24, a Negro. Police said he was shot by patrolman John Tourigian after lunging with a knife at the officer. The policeman who is white, told authorities he was arresting Philpaw for shoplifting.

Hail, Snow Reported in North Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP)—Hail and snow were reported overnight in Northeast Ohio, where just three days ago balmy weather pushed the temperature close to 80 degrees.

The Highway Patrol reported snow in Lake and Geauga counties but said it melted about as fast as it hit the ground.

A U. S. Weather Bureau forecaster at Cleveland Hopkins Airport said there were unofficial reports of soft hail in several Cleveland suburbs but that he had received no reports of snow.

The forecaster said a peaseized hail covered the ground briefly in Parma and some other suburbs.

Seven per cent of the adult-size mattresses sold are extra long or extra wide.

New Hope Looms in Search To Implant Human Heart

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For four days last July, a man lived with a substitute plastic pump implanted in his heart.

It coursed the blood through his body, driven by a pulsing air compressor lying beside him.

It marked the first historic step in a human, with partial success, toward the grand goal of giving doomed heart patients a substitute mechanical heart to restore health and life.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, professor of surgery at Baylor University Medical School, described the human drama and its portent at closing sessions of the American Heart Association.

Only 42, the man had congestive heart failure and had lost 50 pounds during two weeks in the hospital despite all medicines. A faulty heart valve was replaced, but he grew worse.

Kreiger estimated 250,000 persons are involved in bootlegging operations in the Cleveland area. That total includes patrons and bootleggers. The enforcement chief said his office has uncovered evidence that indicates a bootlegger "seriously in this for the money" can make a weekly profit of $300.
